

Storyboard - Jaleel Chestnut

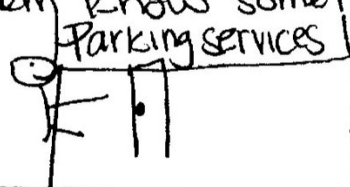

Chris has the problem every college student has which parking on campus.

He sits down with a parking attendant and they let him know so very good information

So Chris went to talk to Parking Services at his school to let them know somethings.

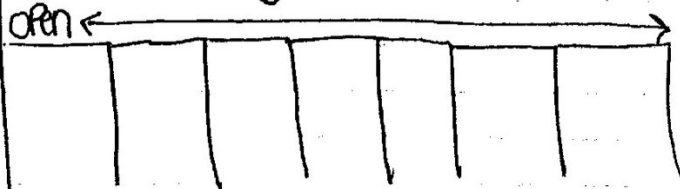

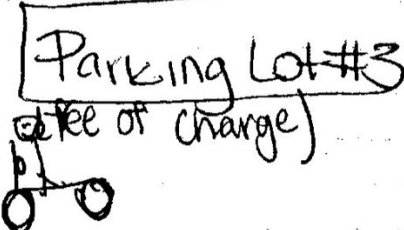

The PA tells Chris there are many places that you can park for free.

After receiving the news Chris gets so happy he wants to tell people this info. more, so he applies for a job for parking Services to learn more.

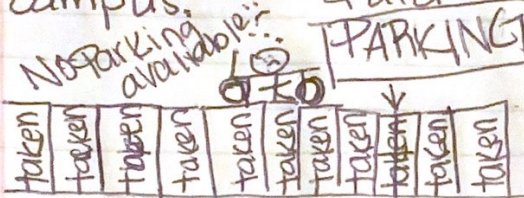

Chris later was able to create 4 new parking lots for students that was free.
